Hume Region Sexual and Reproductive Health Plan for Young People in Hume Region 2014-2017

A little background...

WHGNE has worked in partnership with regional stakeholders to lead the development of a regional sexual and reproductive health plan for young people (12-25 years) to address service gaps and barriers for rural women and priorities for young people living in Hume Region.

The goal, objectives, priority strategies and seven (7) actions in the regional plan reflect research, service mapping, youth consultation and planning undertaken by the regional Steering Committee over the past 8 months.

Sixteen organisations (16) providing youth services in health, education, community and local government settings are represented on the Steering Committee as well as regional organisations committed to improving rural young people's access to affordable health care & SH services and the knowledge, skills and resources needed to make healthy sexual choices and respectful relationships.

Steering Committee and Associate members enabled workforce and youth consultation with over 450 young people living in Hume Region to identify priority strategies and actions within the regional S&RH plan.

Primarily, the regional Sexual and Reproductive Health plan aims to implement integrated primary prevention in Hume region from 2014 to 2017 that:

- Identifies, shares and supports evidence based and promising rural practice aimed at improving rural young people's access to affordable health care, SH & fertility control services
(condoms and contraceptives, STI & unplanned pregnancy testing, choices counselling & termination services) with increased privacy, respect and support.
- Build workforce knowledge and skills to engage more effectively with young people, especially vulnerable and marginalised rural youth.
- Foster and support school and community environments to increase young people's access to knowledge, skills and resources needed for healthy relationships and sexual choices.
- Develop regional capacity to share, monitor and evaluate evidence based primary prevention in rural settings to promote young people's sexual and reproductive health.
